

Dear MUSIC Members,

As we head into the warmer weather and an opening up of pandemic restrictions, I am looking forward to what this year will bring us. Please take a moment to review some key collaborative updates:

- New MUSIC Website

We are excited to announce the launch of our revamped website. Please check it out at www.musicurology.com and let us know what you think!

- MUSIC Skills Webinar April 7, 6-8 pm: A Guide to Facing Complications

Please register for this interactive global teaching event which will feature MUSIC urologists and patients, including novel work on how surgeons cope with adverse events. Guest speakers will include Dr. Kevin Turner (Bournemouth, UK), Dr. Scott Eggener (University of Chicago) and Dr. Gary Faerber (Duke University).

- MUSIC at New Orleans #AUA22

MUSIC has 16 abstracts at this year's meeting with 36 MUSIC urologists serving as authors. The schedule is available here. If you will be at the AUA Annual Meeting, please join friends and network with us at the MUSIC Reception on Saturday, May 14, from 5-7 pm.

- MUSIC Statewide Collaborative Meeting in June

Our first in person meeting since the COVID pandemic will take place on June 10th from 11 AM – 4 PM at the Inn at St. John's in Plymouth. Please save the date. More details will be forthcoming as the meeting date draws closer.

- Coordinating Center Staff: Congratulations!

I am pleased to announce that Susan Linsell has assumed the role of MUSIC Administrative Officer and Anna Johnson is now the Program Manager. Susan's primary focus will now be on the strategic growth of MUSIC while Anna will oversee and direct all operational aspects of the program.

- Randomized Clinical Trials (RCTs): BLUES and G-MAJOR

Special shout out to Michigan Institute of Urology, Comprehensive Urology Beaumont, Henry Ford Hospital, IHA Urology and Michigan Medicine for starting the ROCKS BLUES RCT assessing health-related quality of life in patients undergoing ureteroscopy and stenting. Also thanks to the five practices currently enrolling patients in the G-MAJOR active surveillance genomics RCT. Please contact us if you are interested in taking part in these studies.

- Outdoor MUSIC

Welcome to the University of North Carolina into the MUSIC program! If you have friends working in centers outside Michigan who might be interested in the Outdoor MUSIC initiative, please ask them to contact Susan at slinsell@med.umich.edu.

From the whole MUSIC team, thank you for your support and collaboration. We look forward to seeing many of you soon.

Best Regards,

Khurshid Ghani
